

BRAND GUIDELINES

- 01 Quick Guide
- 02 Logos
- 03 How to use the brand
- 04 Colors
- 05 Typography
- 06 Photography
- 07 Assets

Quick Guide

Logos

Primary colors

SIENA ORANGE
HEX #E2AC33

RASPBERRY RED
HEX #D13B5F

CRAYOLA BLUE
HEX #217BEE

Neutral colors

BLACK
HEX #100D25

GREY 700
HEX #5D6066

GREY 500
HEX #82858D

GREY 300
HEX #BFBFBF

GREY 200
HEX #E1E1E1

GREY 100
HEX #F3F3F3

Primary typeface

Sora

Secondary typeface

Instrument Sans

Download assets →

Logos

The “N” is the common symbol that identifies the entire group and serves as the foundation for the construction of our brands. From it, the group’s identity and its different specializations are articulated, always under the same visual language.

Google Drive

Download logos →

How to use the brand (I)

Our brand is a shared asset. These guidelines explain how to apply it consistently to maintain its recognition and coherence in any context.

Brand vision

The N is the common element of all our brands and the distinctive symbol of our company. It is the main resource to represent our identity and should be used by default in most external communications: presentations, proposals, commercial materials, and social media publications.

Operational vision

The group’s specific brands are used only when they provide additional value:

 Specialization

In sectors where the brand is recognized (e.g., Nfq in Banking, Insurance, and Real Estate; Nter in technology environments; Nforce in recruiting).

 Local Presence

When there is a regional connection (e.g., Nter in Jaén, NWorld in Zaragoza).

 Group and New Initiatives

NWorld is applied as an umbrella for the conglomerate and strategic projects.

How to use the brand (II)

Our brand is a shared asset. These guidelines explain how to apply it consistently to maintain its recognition and coherence in any context.

Usage Guidelines

- DO

 - Use the N as the default corporate symbol.
 - Accompany the full logo with its corresponding claim.
 - Apply specific brands only when they reinforce specialization or local context.
- DON'T

 - Do not add or remove elements from the logo or the claim.
 - Do not use specific brands without strategic justification.
 - Do not omit the claim in communications with the full logo.

Brand Claim

- All our brands have a claim that always accompanies the logo.
- It provides context about the sector or specialization.
 - It must always be included when using the complete brand.

Color (I)

Our primary colors convey the personality and energy of our brand. These tones should form the basis of all visual communications, ensuring consistency in brand and design.

Usage Guidelines

- DO

 - Prioritize a single primary color as the main accent in key pieces.
 - Always ensure sufficient contrast to maintain content legibility.
 - Use colors selectively and strategically, avoiding saturation.
- DON'T

 - Alter the HEX values or create unauthorized variations.
 - Use combinations that reduce legibility (e.g., red text on an orange background).

Primary colors

SIENA ORANGE
HEX #EC683E

RASPBERRY RED
HEX #D13B5F

CRAYOLA BLUE
HEX #217BEE

Color (II)

Neutral colors act as support and balance within the visual system. They allow hierarchy, space, and contrast to the primary colors, ensuring clear and versatile communication.

Usage Guidelines

- DO

 - Use neutral tones as the predominant base for backgrounds and typography.
 - Apply different shades of gray to establish hierarchy.
 - Combine with primary colors to achieve balanced contrast.
- DON'T

 - Use neutral colors as substitutes for primary ones in strategic pieces.
 - Overuse very dark tones.

Neutral colors

BLACK HEX #100D25	GREY 700 HEX #5D6066	GREY 500 HEX #82858D
GREY 300 HEX #BFBFBF	GREY 200 HEX #E1E1E1	GREY 100 HEX #F3F3F3

Typography

Typography is a key element in the visual identity of our brand. We combine a primary typeface with a secondary one to maintain a balance between visual impact and legibility.

Google Drive

Download fonts →

Sora

Sora is the primary typeface. Its modern, clear, and versatile style makes it the foundation of our communication.

- Mainly used in titles, headings, and highlighted texts.
- It conveys clarity, innovation, and personality.

Instrument Sans

Instrument Sans complements Sora as the secondary typeface. It is neutral, legible, and helps balance the text.

- Recommended for long texts, subtitles, and supporting content.
- It ensures readability in extensive paragraphs and digital formats.

Primary typeface

Secondary typeface

Photography

Photography is a key pillar of the brand’s visual identity. It defines the tone of our communication and conveys professionalism, closeness, and innovation.

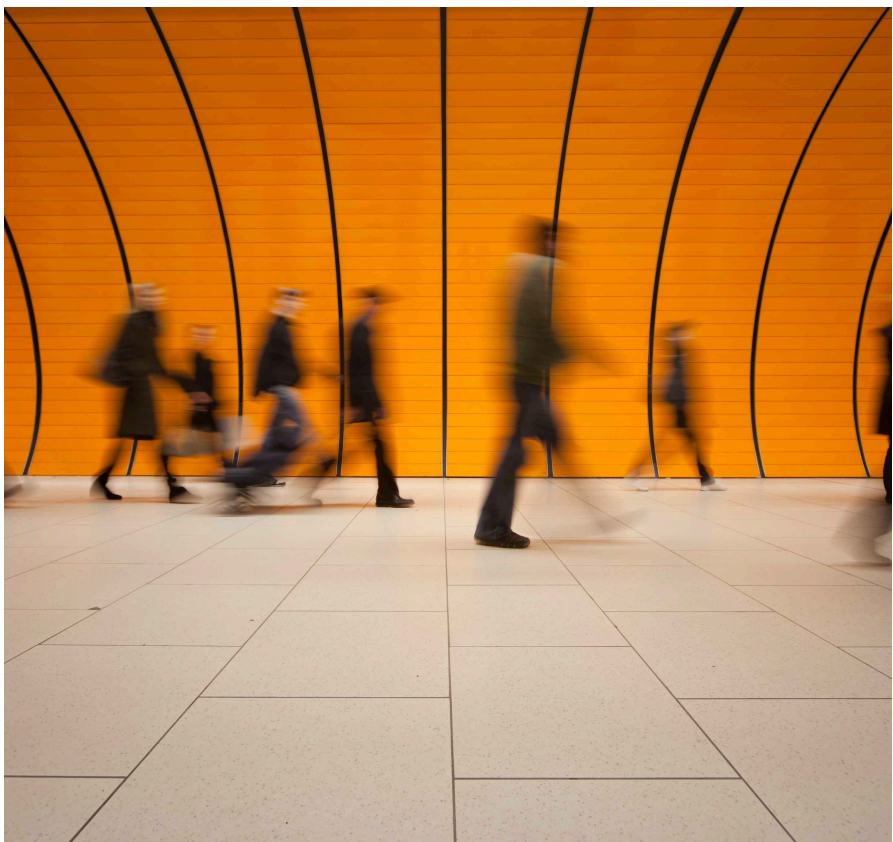

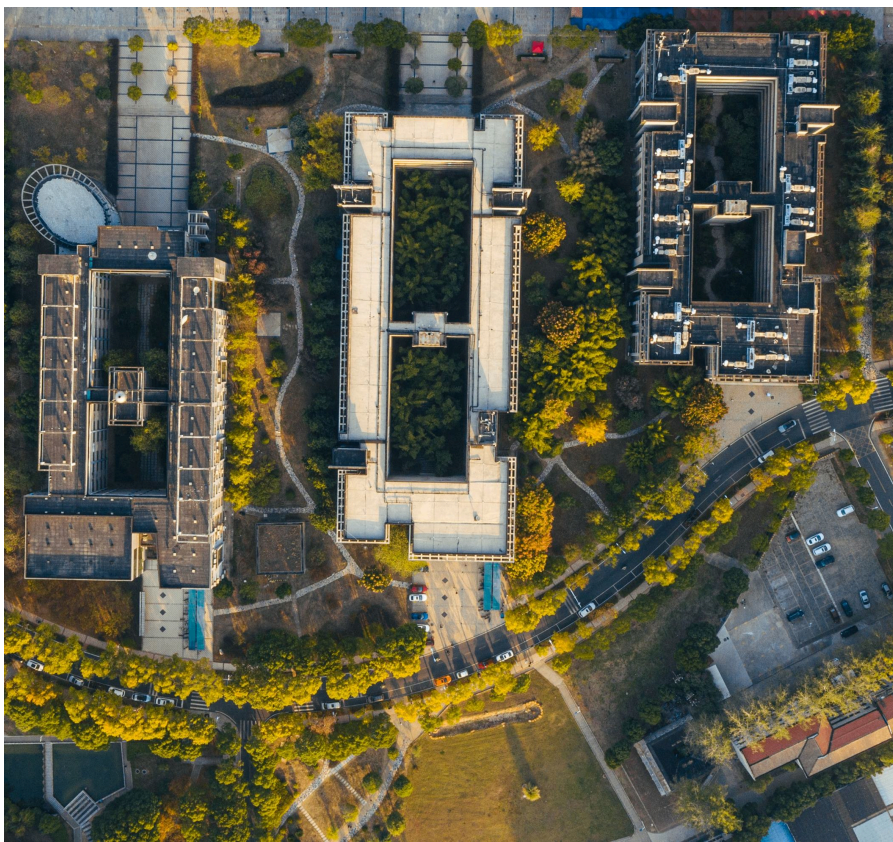

Usage Guidelines

DO

- Use brand-approved photographs whenever possible.
- Opt for a clear, natural, and professional style, avoiding excessive editing.
- Use images that reinforce our values: innovation, technology, teamwork, and positive impact.

DON'T

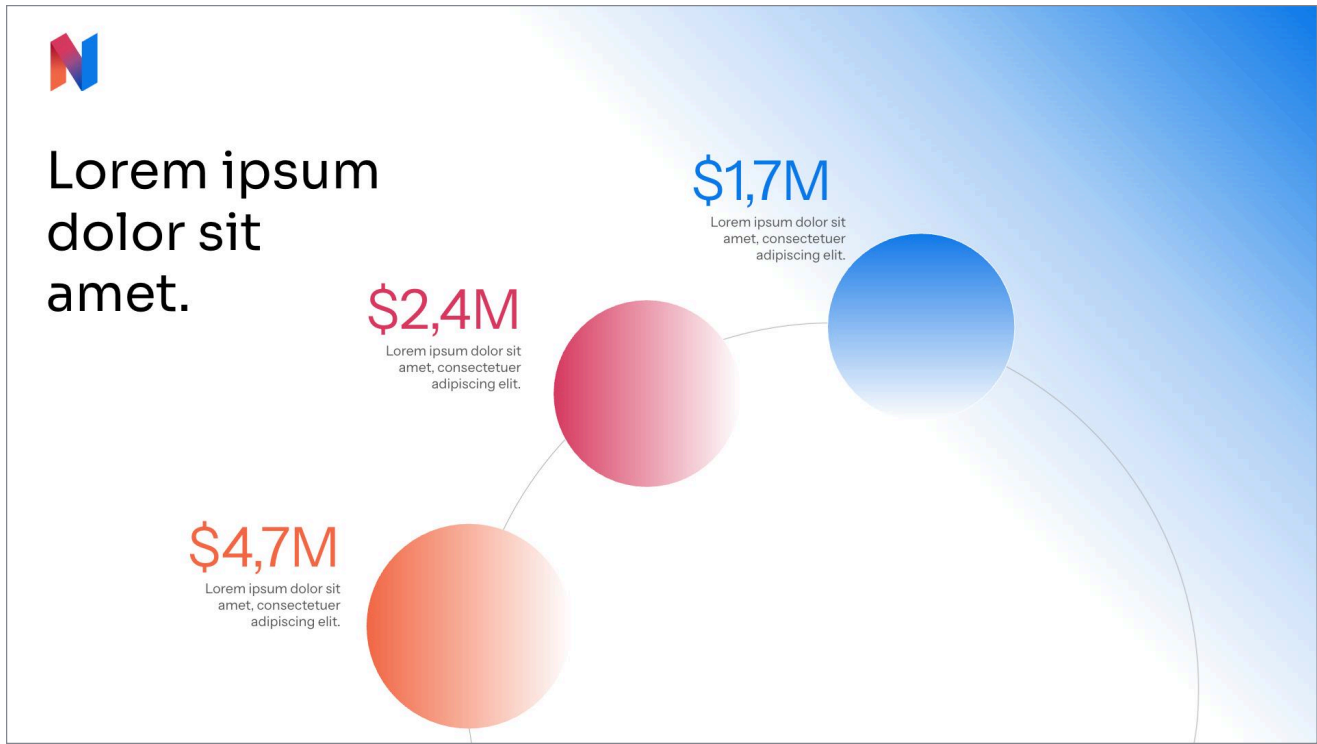

- Alter images with filters or effects.
- Mix very different styles within the same material.
- Include low-quality, pixelated, or watermarked images.

Assets

Brand assets ensure unified and professional communication on a daily basis. Always use them to maintain consistency in all interactions.

Ramón Fernández Giner
SENIOR CONSULTANT
C/ O'Donnell 34 - 3ª Pl., 28009, Madrid
Madrid - London - NYC - Warszawa - CDMX - São Paulo - Bogotá

in @ f

